Foreword

We, the Class of 1957, wish our yearbook to be a farewell tribute to our high school. As we look ahead to the new building, we can see the aspirations and dreams of the past realized, and yet we can fully appreciate the opportunities and privileges we have enjoyed here.

Our yearbook theme is "Growing Pains" and we salute this high school, for here we grew. Some of our "growing pains" have been overcrowdedness, limited facilities, and lack of various educational and athletic opportunities. We hope that many of these "pains" will be removed with the completion of our new building, but not too many. For through these "growing pains" we truly grew: in stature, in mind, and in heart.

Mr. J. Clifford Schwab

We, the Class of 1957, wish to dedicate this book to Mr. Schwab in appreciation for the help he has given us during our four years in high school.

We all remember the guidance during our sophomore and junior years when he served as our class advisor, the counseling he has always been willing to give, and the friendship which has always existed between us.

We feel that the success our class has had in Sharon High School, and will have in the future, is due in part to the help which we have received from Mr. Schwab.

FACULTY

Mr. Herman H. Richardson

We, the Class of 1957, wish to express our appreciation to Mr. Richardson, our superintendent, for the co-operation he has given us in all of our activities, and the help he has given many of us with individual problems.

Mr. Arnold W. Bartlett

The Class of 1957 wishes to express sincerest gratitude to Mr. Bartlett, our principal.

We are most appreciative of his understanding and interest, which have contributed so much to the welfare of our class.

SECOND ROW: Mr. Francis Roman, Miss Dorris Newton, Mrs. Lillian Reardon, Miss Marion Haley, Mr. John Barrows, Mrs. Eleanor Edwards, Mr. Gary Hall, Mrs. Ann Dann, Miss Dorothea Shea, Mrs. Judith Riegelhaupt, Miss Cecile Bahn, Mr. Clifford Schwab.

FIRST ROW: Mrs. Sylvia Furber, Miss Dorothy Chase, Mrs. Katherine Norwood, Miss Barbara Burns, Mr. Edward Koskella, Mr. Herman Richardson, Superintendent; Mr. Arnold Bartlett, Principal; Miss Barbara Flemings, Mrs. Kathryn Baker, Miss Eleanor Bailey, Mrs. Ruth Rivkin.

Looking back over the past four years, the highlights we remember are not the clowning antics or the good report cards, but the teachers who have administered to our "growing pains". Their diagnoses and treatment have proved invaluable. Without their knowledge, patience, and understanding, we would never be here now, standing on the threshold of a promising future.

Now, endowed with a good deal more knowledge and a more generous dose of insight than we had when we were freshmen, we can appreciate the devoted efforts of our faculty. May the future classes be fortunate enough to have their learning imparted to them by such a wonderful group of educators.

GRADE 12 — TRIGONOMETRY

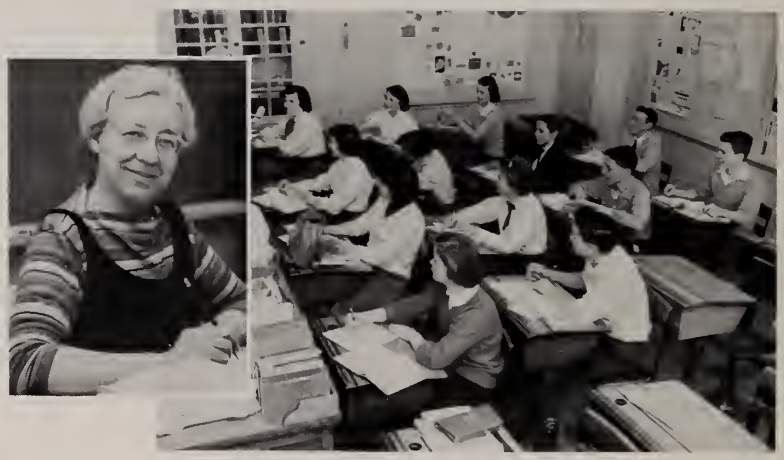
Mr. Clifford Schwab

As we glance at the period 5 trig and solid class, we see Mr. Schwab, presiding over a "school of brook trout". The future engineers of America prove identities and plot functions while dreaming of MIT and Rensselear.

GRADE 9 — LATIN I

Miss Dorothy Chase

Miss Chase, Latin I, and the ancient Romans work together to prove that Latin isn't dead. Hercules, Jason, and Ulysses all prove challenging to the freshmen in this course.



GRADE 12 — ENGLISH

Mr. Francis Roman

One of the most entertaining teachers in the high school, Mr. Roman can make Chaucer, English grammar, and even term papers interesting to a tired group of seniors.

GRADE 10 — PLANE GEOMETRY

Mrs. Reardon

Under the expert tutelage of Mrs. Reardon, sophomores learn the art of reading graphs and the skill of bisecting angles. Here the seeds of a mathematical career are sown.

GRADE 10 — BIOLOGY

Mr. Billings

Biology is the study of life and it is transformed into a lively study with Mr. Billings as the teacher.

GRADE 12 — PROBLEMS OF AMERICAN DEMOCRACY

Mrs. Riegelhaupt

Mrs. Riegelhaupt, a recent arrival at Sharon High, has contributed much to the Social Studies Department with her enlightening courses in P. A. D., World History, Economics, and Sociology.

GRADE 11 — TYPING II

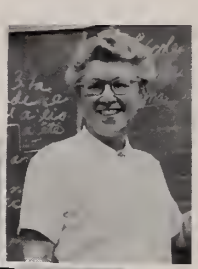
Mrs. Ruth Rivkin

Expert typists and stenographers are developed under Mrs. Rivkin's watchful eye. Be it for a job or for college, the skill learned in these classes has proved to be invaluable.

GRADE 10 — SHOP II

Mr. William Konsavage

Mr. Konsavage produces master craftsmen and useful furniture in his industrial arts classes. Here boys acquire a knowledge of tools and materials by actually working with them.



GRADE 11 — FRENCH II

Miss Dorris Newton

French is fascinating when studied with Miss Newton. Here a group of juniors are struggling with the grammar fundamentals which provide the framework for future study. "Parlez-vous francais?" "Oui, après les classes de Mlle. Newton."

"Stairway to the Stars", the theme used by the Junior Class for their Prom, led to the development of the unique decorations that helped make this year's Prom the tremendous success that it was.

The Junior Class has been outstanding in many fields. In athletics its members have shown outstanding ability, especially in baseball and track. Last year, as sophomores, they won the Field Day trophy, gaining most of their points in the track and field events.

The juniors have taken part in most of the other activities offered by the school, many being elected officials, or holding other important positions.

We are sure that the juniors will make an outstanding Senior Class next year.

The Class of 1959 is certainly a progressive and important part of the student body. Its members are found in most of the school activities, where many of them are officers. They are adept in both acting and public speaking as one can see in their active participation in Debating Club, Dramatics Club, and assemblies. They are talented in the field of music, with unusually large representation in band, orchestra, and chorus.

Their dance, "Harvest Moon", with an autumn motif of scarecrows, pumpkins, haystacks and cornshocks, dominated by a huge harvest moon, was a smashing social success.

We believe that they have much to offer and will be an outstanding class both as juniors and seniors.

As we look at the Class of 1960, most of whose members were born immediately following Pearl Harbor, it becomes obvious that war-time rationing did not effect the infant population, for it is the largest class in the history of the school. It also has the distinction of being the last freshman class to enter high school in our present building if the new building is completed on schedule.

The members of the Class of 1960 have shown a high potential in athletics, as well as in good school citizenship. They are conspicuous everywhere — on the basketball team, in the library, on the honor roll, and in the band. In fact, their youth and enthusiasm are apparent in ever facet of school life.

Membership in the National Honor Society is recognized all over the country as the greatest honor a high school can award to its outstanding citizens. This organization is the pinnacle of success for a hopeful underclassman. Membership is limited, but capability abounds.

On February 15, 1957, Lee Blyler, Bruce Brown, and Carol Krepon, as members of last year's Honor Society, tapped the new members. Six seniors, 15% of the class, all of whom represent the ideals of the society, were made members: Carol Geissler, Barbara Bengen, John MacPhail, Harriet Lillard, John Andrews, and Sheila Furash.

From the junior class, Carol Hunnewell, Richard Nuscher, Mary Richardson, and Wilfred Kingsley, comprising the upper 5% of their class, were tapped.

Here is the cream of Sharon High, all exemplifying the highest degree of scholarship, character, service, and leadership.

The Student Council is a twenty-five member organization with representatives from all the classes. This group is the voice of the student body. Under the guidance of its advisors, Mr. Benoit and Miss Burns, the Council has tried to solve the problems of the pupils.

This year is the Council's tenth anniversary. It marks a decade of useful work and valuable service to the school. Some of the highlights of its contributions are the sale of school supplies, a ramp to the parking lot, Christmas Drawing Contests, Honor Study Hall Passes, and Citizenship Awards. It has also sponsored "Care Drives" to help needy people throughout the world.

The Council is proud to have sent a representative, Bruce Brown, to the National Student Council Convention last summer in Ohio. This year, as a further honor, Council member David Rivers was vice president of the Southeastern Massachusetts Association of Student Councils.

We are sure that the next ten years will bring many more achievements.

The night of December 7, 1956, found a nervous cast waiting in the wings of the high school auditorium ("What's my entrance cue?") and an eager audience filing into their seats as the curtain was about to rise. ("Gosh, look at all the people out there!") The play, Lost Horizon, spiced with scintillating Tibetian dialogue, (Shih, uy pei su wu), was coming to life again.

The play was one of the few serious efforts in senior plays at Sharon High School in recent years; and the cast turned out a performance that did justice to the dramatic Shangrila-ish plot, combining overtones of fantasy with suspense and tension. The play was the culmination of weeks of rehearsals under the excellent direction of Mr. Blake — hard work (interspersed with coffee frappes, and group song-fests).

Unfortunately, just as the audience sees only a small part of the effort that goes into a play, they also see only a fraction of the people who work to present it. Besides the cast, the stage crew, student directors, properties and costume committees, and publicity staff all helped bring the play to completion.

Absent from picture, Sheila Furash, Treasurer.

Every other Tuesday finds Carol Geissler at 11:00 A.M. pounding on the table in the Visual Education Room, striving fruitlessly to gain the attention of the exuberant members of the Girls' Varsity Club. Finally, after the entrance of Miss Haley and Miss Barss, to whom the girls wish to express their appreciation for the guidance which they have given them, the meeting comes to order.

On the more serious side, the Girls' Varsity Club has become very influential in the school, emphasizing good sportsmanship in all phases of school life. Their activities this year have included dances after three of the basketball games, sale of ice cream at the evening games, and the sale of booster pins and beanies, both of which are colorful and increase school spirit. Each year they also assist the boys in planning and running the annual Field Day, the culminating event of the year's athletic program.

As we go to press, they are making plans for the annual car wash and a card party to raise funds for the purchase of the traditional blazers for the outstanding members who are seniors.

This public spirited group is a vital part of our school organization.

Activity period on Thursday finds the Visual Education Room in an uproar, with Peter Barrett threatening to lean on some poor member if he does not pay his dues and Joe Amorosino happily singing the "Banana Boat Song", oblivious of the confusion around him. However, the meeting is soon called to order; and everyone quiets down.

Looking into the Boys' Varsity Club more closely, we find that it is one of the most worthwhile clubs in the school. Its aim is to benefit the school, socially, scholastically, and athletically. The club has carried out these aims through many projects, among which have been the sale of coke, pom-poms, and programs at the basketball games. After these games the boys have sponsored victory dances, which have been very successful. The club, now, annually sponsors a Senior High Talent Show and a Halloween Dance, both of which have been received with much interest by the student body.

Working in close cooperation with the Girls' Varsity Club, the boys put on each year the annual Sharon High School Field Day. At the dance which follows, a trophy is presented to the class having the highest number of points gained in the day's competition. Under the conscientious direction of David Rivers, president, and Mr. Gary Hall, advisor, the club has had one of its most successful years.

Mixed Chorus is the exuberant group which has become the focal point for vocal music in Sharon High School. The group has been in existence for four years under the direction of Mrs. Edwards, who holds the group together and works to bring harmony out of chaos. This year, in addition to the group meetings of Chorus, twice a week, Mrs. Edwards has begun voice classes for the members. These classes give the students more individual attention to improve the quality of their singing. As the Chorus has improved, (from enthusiasm to skill), it has been asked to sing at various public functions, a tribute to the group; and last year the organization gave its own spring concert. This year, the group spent the season on two projects: the Christmas program for the Fortnightly Club, and the exchange concert with Providence High School in March. Since the group consists of the "cream of Sharon's singing crop", it is making steady advances and looks forward to future concerts with other high school groups.

Instrumental Music Program Still Growing

When the rousing tempo of Souza's marches sound from the auditorium on Tuesday and Friday, when, on Thursday, the orchestra rehearses in the Wilber School, and when the sports band lets loose with "Tiger Rag" at basketball games, it is very evident that instrumental music is a popular activity at Sharon High School.

This program is growing bigger and better every year under the capable direction of Mr. Philip Hoffman. Last year the band received a class B rating at the Southeastern Music Festival in Needham. This year three members from the band were selected to play in the Southeastern Massachusetts School Bandmasters Association Band in Middleboro and five members from our orchestra and band were chosen to represent Sharon at the annual all-state Music Festival in Northampton.

Sharon High School is proud of the achievements of the instrumental groups and hope that their success will continue in the future.

FIRST ROW: Carol Davis, Louise Whittam, Lenore Putnam, Betty Zurblis, Estelle Berenson, John Andrews, Editor-in-chief; Mr. Francis Roman, Advisor; Carol Krepon, Secretary-Treasurer; Sheila Gordon, Enid Kaplan, Elaine Abber, Christine Hoffman, Nancy Blyler.

"Please sit down, everybody!" There is general bedlam, as the Eagle members play Musical Chairs without the music, so that the whole staff can be squeezed into Room 103. The editor-in-chief, Tom Andrews, and the advisor, Mr. Roman, subdue the exuberance of the staff. The meeting has officially begun. The close quarters make for a certain harmony as Tom tries to assign the write-ups for the coming issue. Everyone works together—to get the next person to do the job. The treasurer's report indicates that the Eagle is prospering, and the staff is reminded that it is one of the few self-supporting organizations in the school.

As it is a thriving enterprise, so it is also rapidly becoming legible. It is improving with each issue, and at each meeting the group tries to incorporate new ideas into the paper. The staff is made up of copy-writers (the potential Pulitzer-prize winners), the art staff (future Rembrandts), the production staff (which does the actual assembling of the paper), and the advertising staff (which enterprisingly digs up ads to provide the backlog of Eagle funds).

The Eagle is working toward the time when it can come out in print; and if the staff keeps working together as it has in the past, the Sharon High School paper should be able to compete with the best of high school newspapers in the future.

Just as the final buzzer sounds, a long set shot swishes through the nets, adding another two points to Sharon's lead. This year's varsity basketball squad had a very successful season, finishing in second place in The Hockomock League with a 12 - 2 record. After losing to a fast Wareham team, Sharon came back to take the consolation finals of the South Shore Tournament. To date, Sharon has a 17 - 3 overall record for the season. As the yearbook goes to press, the team is preparing to enter the Bay State Tournament.

FIRST ROW: Barbara Healy, Sally Kirouac, Marie McGrath, Carol Geissler, Sandra MacPhail, Miss Marion Haley, Coach; Meredith Speirs, Anne Pearce, Marilyn Zambella, Mary Peckham, Virginia Butler.

As we look back upon the girls' varsity basketball season, the outstanding highlights are not spectacular plays or defense combinations, but well-organized team work, high spirit, and sheer fun of the game. Never before have the girls played with such enthusiasm and good will.

Many of the high scorers and effective guards are graduating this year, but the talented underclassmen will have no trouble filling their sneakers.

Cheering S. H. S. To Victory

SECOND ROW: Sandra MacPhail, Marilyn Zambella, Miss Marion Haley, Advisor; Anne Pearce, Carol Geissler
FIRST ROW: Cynthia Halkyard, Virginia Butler, Elaine Abber, Diana Meister.

The cheerleading squad of 1956 - 57 added much to the excitement of all the basketball games. Selected in try-outs by the members of the faculty following a period of intense practice in the fall, this year's squad consisted of Marie McGrath, Captain; Carol Geissler, Sandra MacPhail and Marilyn Zambella, who were on the squad for the second year; Mary Richardson, Anne Pearce, Carol Hunnewell, who were new members, with Susie Butler, Cynthia Halkyard, Diana Meister and Elaine Abber as alternates.

The girls, under the competent leadership of Marie McGrath, turned out several new team and individual cheers for the boys, both of which greatly boosted the morale of the players. Very chic in gold beanies, maroon and gold jumpers, white blouses, white socks and sneakers, they have been regarded as one of the most sparkling cheering squads in the Hockomock League.

We hope that next year's cheerleaders will be as great an inspiration to both spectators and team as this year's have been.

Outstanding Softball Season Chalked Up

FIRST ROW: Carol Huerth, Assistant Manager; Barbara Kelley, Manager; Dena Uretsky, Assistant Manager.

Softball is a growing sport at Sharon High School, where every year more and more students try out for the team. As softball is confined to the last few months of the school year, and therefore has a very short season, the girls must put their all into practice in order to compete successfully with other school.

Last spring our team had a very good season, coming out on top in eight out of ten games. Some of their wins were as follows: 12 to 3 over Mansfield, 6 to 5 over Canton, 14 to 12 over Foxboro, 18 to 10 over Oliver Ames, and 9 to 7 over Stoughton.

As well as making an excellent showing athletically, the girls are fine representatives of sportsmanship at its best in Sharon High School.

Successful Season Promised

SECOND ROW: Jonathan McCrensky, Aaron Wise, Joseph Amorosino, Warren Carson, David Rivers, Peter Barrett, Peter Meshon, Donald Glaser.
FIRST ROW: Peter Feldman, Manager.

The crowd in the bleachers roar as a Sharon player clouts a long ball to deep center, driving three runs home. Coach Hall returns to the bench, giving his mysterious array of signals to the man on third while manager Feldman in his deep rolling voice calls out the next three men who are to go to the plate.

This flashback gives us a picture of last year's varsity baseball squad, coached by Mr. Gary Hall and captained by David Rivers. The team wound up the season winning six of its fourteen League games. Sharon High School was well represented both on the road and at home by these boys who, through hard, clean play and good sportsmanship, brought honor and respect to the school.

We look forward to an even better season this year because many of last year's veterans will return and the team will be strengthened further with many of the junior varsity players.

Sharon Shines In Golf

KNEELING: Robert Kirouac, Russell Sellew, Peter Meshon.

Last year Sharon's golf team did not play in the Bay State League, but independently arranged matches with seven high schools in the area. They won six of the seven matches and, in each of the preceding four years, placed second in the Bay State League.

Although the team has lost three good players, it still presents a formidable threat to all of its opponents. Last year the youngest member of the team, Bobby Kirouac, won the Hearst Tournament in Massachusetts, and played in the national finals in Chicago. He also won the C. Y. O. tournament.

Other veterans who will be playing on the team again this year are: Peter Kirouac, Captain; Bob Callahan, Peter Meshon, and Peter Barrett.

Last year the team launched a new program in which they organized an intramural league, and gave instruction to interested students to help maintain a strong team. We trust that Sharon will continue to excel in golf.

S. H. S. Has Formidable Track Team

With a burst of speed the Sharon runner crosses the finish line, leading the field. It is with this same speed that Sharon has moved up in Hockomock League standing. Under the careful direction of Coach Courteau, the track and field team has grown to be respected by the teams in the Hockomock League. In 1956 Sharon placed fourth in the Hockomock League; and, in the South Shore Track Meet in Class B, they took first and second places in the mile, second in the half mile, and fourth in the 100 yard dash. With almost the entire group returning, the track team looks forward to an even more successful season this year.

These are the athletes who will represent Sharon in 1957:

100 yards—Donald Dunakin, David Rivers
220 yards—Donald Dunakin, David Rivers
440 yards—Wilfred Kingsley
880 yards—Warren Colon
Mile—Steven Steinberg, Edward Altshuler, Robert Bussewitz
Broad Jump—Allan Muul, Joseph Graham
High Jump—Allan Muul, Joseph Graham
Shot Put—Allan Muul
Relay—Donald Dunakin, David Rivers, Wilfred Kingsley, Warren Colon.

KNEELING: Donald Dunakin, Charles McDonald, Harvey Miller, Martin Gross, Wilfred Kingsley, Warren Colon.
